SUMMARY

An experienced Web Developer with a good knowledge of Python and JavaScript based web development. I love creating products that are good in user experience and user interface. I love doing frontend and backend work alike and building end to end solutions for fun. I do bit of writing as well on my blogs here:

<http://www.gotchacode.com> and <http://vinitkumar.me>

Contributing to Open Source is one of my passion and most of time you would find me closing issues on Github or reading some good piece of Code.
